Instructions

If the buyers are financing the sale the new Lender will typically need to have their “underwriters” review the executed document well in advance of the closing. This form has passed such review and is also acceptable for the issuance of title insurance.

Each Principal (e.g., both husband and wife) must execute the form before a Notary Public and two (2) competent witnesses.

Use full legal names (i.e., first name, middle name, maiden name, surname, etc., e.g., “John Quincy Jones, Jr.” or “Ellen Elizabeth Parker Jones, born Parker”).

The full-blown legal description (e.g., “A certain tract or parcel of ground...” but not simply the tax Assessor’s description or the municipal address) must be either inserted in the space provided or attached as an exhibit. If there is any question about the description, use an exhibit so it can be corrected if necessary.

Immediately fax a copy the signed document to the settlement agent (to check that it was properly executed) then express the original to arrive well in advance of the closing to:
